DEDICATION

MISS JOSEPHINE BOWMAN

If a woman moves through life as if she knows the planets are watching her, and might be amused by her presumption—that woman is Josephine Bowman.

If a woman moves in harmony with all her yesterdays, as these days now rush past her more suddenly—that, too is Josephine Bowman.

If you pass a face that looks less intimidated than all the others, because for all her years, she has known how to look deep into all of our faces, that face belongs to Josephine Bowman.

And if you can find someone who can remember and walk and grow in all these ways—this person is worth the listening.

For all of yourself you have shared with us, Miss Bowman, we are grateful. May God's gift to you be a long and fulfilling retirement. As we leave Johnstown High School with you, so, too, shall our thoughts and prayers accompany you.

There was a door that stood ajar,
that one had left for me.
But I was seeking other doors,
to which I had no key.
And when at last I turned to seek the refuge and the light,
A gust of wind had shut the door,
and left me in the night.

THE PASSING OF THE KEY OF WISDOM

SCOTT KEITH

(On the occasion of presenting the emblem to 1927½)

Ever long the sun at four illustrious years,
With other memories will fade away,
And tasks once dark to us in fancied years
Bequeath us fruitful joys of our brief day.

Yet, ere Time bids our stay a final close,
On you who soon our cherished task must bear,
Our faith, as emblem of its trust bestows
The keeping of the Key of Wisdom, fair.

'Tis yours the trust that once we proudly bore;
Now that we've kept our charge as honest task,
Bear it undiminished, proud as we before,
Then pass it bravely on, 'tis all we ask.

But hold the emblem's light in nobler ways
Till from our Alma Mater you retire,
That they may hear who act in later days
Its challenge speak in words of living fire!

ANNIVERSARY 1976-77

Preface

JOHNSTOWN adds no more monument to mark the hope and trust which the City places in the young man and young woman.

At the immediate base of a beautiful, forest-clad hill beside the graceful curve of the river, in the geographical and commercial center of the busy, prosperous city, Johnstown has builded this monument. From its windows may be seen, in brick and mortar the manifestations of a throbbing life and of an achieving people. It is at the heart of potential action, removed from the din and clamor that would distract, yet in the atmosphere of dynamic activity. In such an unique situation there is opened and dedicated an Opportunity School asking the question—"What are your needs?" and giving the answer—"Such needs will be satisfied so far as possible." Anticipating some of the needs, this building is equipped for preparation in higher efficiency in service in the professional school or college, in the shop or office, in the home or at the mill. Wherever man meets man to serve or wherever a task is to be performed, this school is an opportunity.

This Preface appeared in the booklet honoring the dedication of the new and modern Johnstown High School in the fall of 1926.

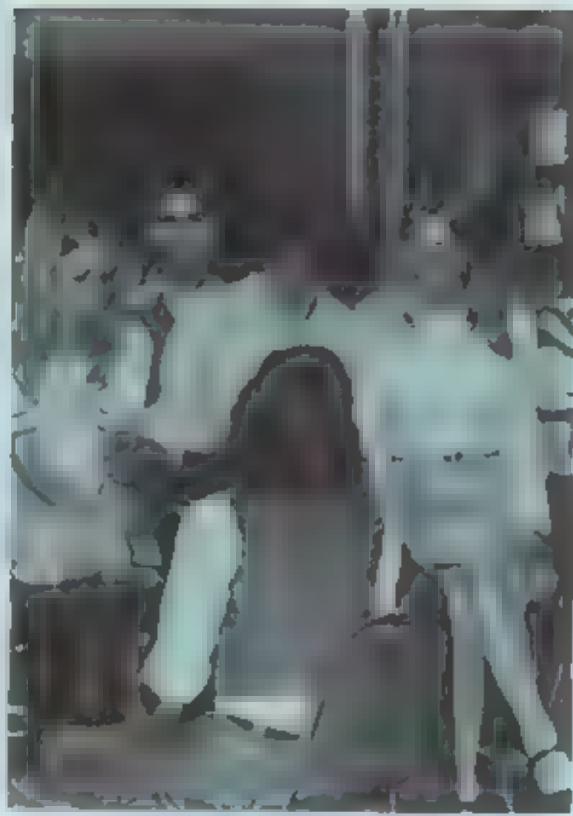

Kevin Rozich—President of Student Council, presents a certificate to Principal William Grove in honor of our Fiftieth Anniversary. Looking on are John Zemet—treasurer; Mike Lingenfelter—vice-president; and Debbie Coby—secretary.

Johnstown was incorporated in 1889 and is named for its founder, Joseph Schenck, whose statue is a focal point of the downtown. Central Park Mall is the building in the downtown area and relatively new. In 1970, leaders have tried to keep Johnstown alive by making the city a first-grade school. The school was built and the school was moved to the downtown area and named after Joseph Schenck. The school is a growing community. In 1970, the school was moved to the downtown area and became the financial and office center of the metropolitan area.

LEFT: McDonald's Town House restaurant supplies yet another convenience for the hungry shopper. BELOW: Johnstown residents find shade and relaxation in the city's Central Park.

ABOVE: The Johnstown Flood Museum adds culture and history to our town. RIGHT: First Lutheran Church is an example of the many different houses of worship in the Johnstown area

LEFT: The Red Cross Building functions as a regional blood and service center. ABOVE: The U.S. National Bank Building, prior to renovation which will more than double its capacity. BELOW: Downtown Johnstown is a center for activity education and service

As we graduate, the city school system is comprised of seven elementary buildings, two newly-renovated junior high schools, and one high school building celebrating its 50th anniversary of service. School district leaders realize that the high school has become too outmoded to remain in use much longer, and before many more years have passed it seems likely there will be either an entirely new Greater Johnstown Central Senior High School or a completely renovated building at the present site along Somerset Street. The 1977 graduating class numbers just over four hundred students, and there are only about twelve hundred in the top three grades. Continuing declines in the school-age population indicate that before many more years have passed, Johnstown High School may serve fewer than one thousand students a year. When this happens, we may see the ending of an era in athletics at Johnstown High. Our size then would make it difficult to continue competing with the larger schools throughout the state, many of which would be three or four times larger than us. Whatever its size, though, we find it unlikely that there will be any changes in the spirit of Johnstown High School—a spirit that makes it an integral part of "Our Town."

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION & BOARD OF EDUCATION

SEATED: Dr. Levi Hollis—Director of Secondary Ed., Diana Pavlik—Mary Lou Oyer—Treas., Dorothy Horner—Hazel Burkholder—and Sylvester Sauer—Secretary. STANDING: John Cernic—Louis Schultzeck—Ron Stevens—Pres., Dr. Donato Zucco—Superintendent, Robert Williams—John Buchanan—Vice Pres., Dr. Robert Klemens—and Atty. The School Board is responsible for a great many things in the Greater Johnstown School District. They set up the budget, approve all extracurricular activities, set up educational requirements, and are responsible for the overall operation of District Schools. They are community-minded individuals who work many hours without pay. Here Dr. Zucco and his wife Carol enjoy an assembly presented by the Westminster Chorus. Mrs. Rita Glosser, also pictured, sponsored this assembly through the Symphony Auxiliary.

ENGLISH

This year the English Department has initiated a system of mini-courses. Juniors and seniors choose three mini-courses from a variety of selections after completing a nine week preparatory course in basic grammar. The choices range from traditional subjects such as Research Paper and American Literature to modern courses in Mass Media and Realization of Life's Complexities. The purpose of the mini-courses is to offer each student a variety of interesting courses to enrich his learning experience.

Everyone knows that one of the high points of the day is lunchtime, and we're fortunate to have a full staff of competent cooks who really care that our food is hot and appetizing. Under the direction of Mrs. Pheasant, the cafeteria workers prepare and serve some 650 to 675 meals a day.

All Things Come To Pass In Due Process

There are people
There are places
But only TIME is real

Spring comes Winter goes
But just to change the trees

I SEARCH—
So deep inside myself
Seems no one is there to find

I long for LOVE—
My thoughts are HATE—
My mind is wasting slowly

look Above
look Below
stay just where I am

I'm tired of dreams
I'm tired of plans
There's no one I relate to

I have lost my
RHYTHM
I can't find my RHYME
My spirit has died
within me

don't remember the song
can't see the wind

Nothing's left
It's over
Maybe now
my PEACE has come
—Nancy Hartland

God, I'm afraid, what is to become of me?
Will I live my life the way I want, the way you want? Where are you, where am I?
Where have you been, where are we going?
Why does love hurt, why do I feel so cheap?
Do guys like how I look, or am I just plain ugly? Why do we have to die to get to heaven?
Is there really a heaven? Where is it? Who am I, where can I find my real self? When is tomorrow? How long is forever? What is time?

WHY?

Mary Weaver PHOTOGRAPHER...

Being a photo-journalist is a lot of fun. Although it takes up a great deal of my time, I'm probably more involved in taking pictures for the yearbook than I have ever been in any of my classes; right, Mr. Liska? Most of the pictures in the book this year are mine, but being the photographer rather than doing the layouts has one disadvantage—someone else always chooses what pictures to use. Because of that, I'm especially glad to have these two pages to myself to print some of the photos that otherwise would not have been published. Most of all I like to think of myself as—the right photographer in the right place at the right time.

IRONY

These two advertisements appeared on the same day in the Tribune-Democrat. The fact that the hockey club was for sale was not surprising, but the fact that it was for sale in light of the past few years was indeed ironic. Two years ago the Jets had won the championship of the North American Hockey League and last year they had captured the regular season championship. The 1976-77 edition of the Jets was far different, however. After two highly-successful seasons the club had changed ownership, and "Mr. Hockey," John Mitchell had retired/been fired. This year the Jets played without most of the exciting players who had brought the glory years, and the club suffered both on the ice and at the gate. The team went from first place to the cellar of the NAHL, and lost great piles of money. So, we went to see the movie Slap Shot, and waited to see if there would be a Johnstown Jets in this city next year.

Y-TEENS

As a service organization, the Y-Teens collected for UNICEF, made a homecoming float, and took part in the Halloween Parade. This year's football season was a trying one for the Trojans. It was the second year they competed in the Foothills Conference of the WPIAL. It was a tough year, but it was one of learning. This was the first winless season in Trojan history. Although they had many difficulties, their spirit was undefeatable. Their record isn't the best, but we are proud of our Trojans and their undying spirit.

The 1976-1977 Trojan basketball team, as always, gave JHS something to be proud of. Although the team was lacking in height, it more than made up for it in hustle and enthusiasm. This year the War Memorial Tournament was once again hosted by our own Trojan team. Led by Coach Paul Litwalk, the Trojan sharpshooters ended their season with a record of 11 wins and 9 losses.

SMOTHERS!

Cross Country is not a well-known sport at JHS, but thanks to Art Smothers it has gained fame. Art qualified for the state competition by placing fifth in districts. He represented JHS well by coming in fifty-eighth out of 211 runners. Art's future plans include running cross country and track in college, and maybe one day going to the Olympics.

CROSS-COUNTRY

This was an outstanding year for the Cross-Country team. Under the leadership of Coach John Liska, the Trojans finished second with one of the best records in over ten years.

Trojanettes on their way to victory

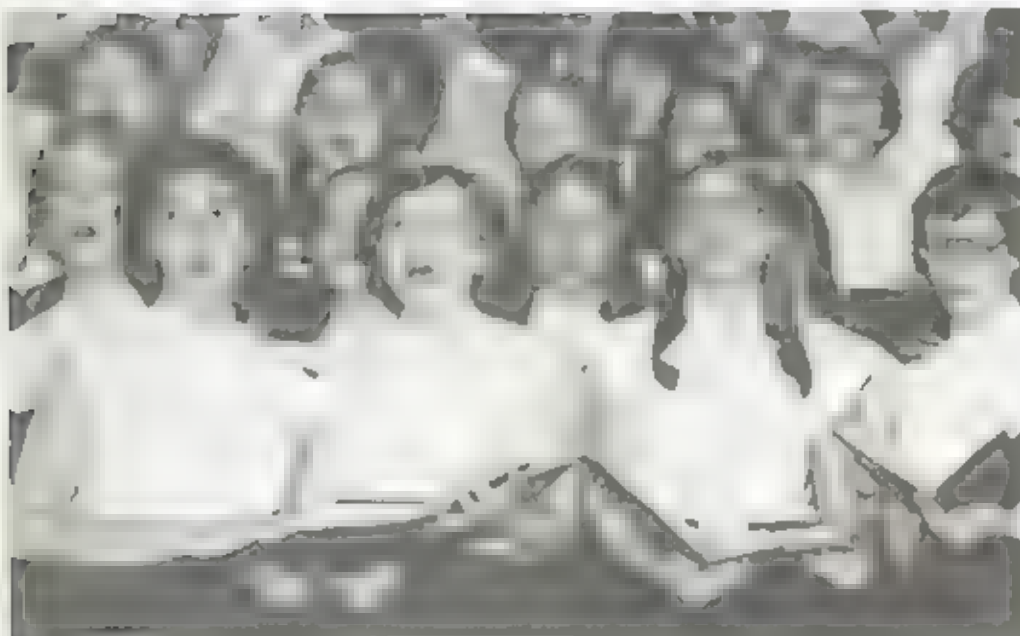

CONTESTS

Aside from marching with the band, the majorettes took part in several majorette contests this year. They included the Altoona Jaffa Mosque Majorette Spectacular and the NBTA Sanctioned Open Class A. They also participated in the Central keystone Contest, where they took second place. They topped off the year by winning first place in the Fourteenth Annual Majorette Contest. Because of the win JHS is the only school to have won this prestigious contest three times. One highlight of the winning routine, which was done to the music of "Shaft in Africa", was a toss-turn around by Tammy Taylor in which she threw her baton high enough to be able to turn around four times. Another highlight featured Sharl Elkin and Patti Chiodo catching three batons apiece then throwing them back with one motion. This year's squad members are Sharl Elkin—captain, Lisa Stevens—co-captain, Tammy Taylor, Kim Friedel, Debbie Antonikas, Kathy Smith, Bobbi Weaver, Patti Chiodo, Janice Liska and Renee Weaver.

JHS . . . alive with the sound of music

The JHS Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Carl Miller, began the year with a performance at the Indiana University of Pennsylvania for High School Choir Day. Some of the other performances consisted of several assemblies at the high school and junior highs, the Milton Hershey schools, Christmas concert, churches and private clubs, and a special performances with the Johnstown Symphony Orchestra and Chorale

JAZZ-ROCK

The Jazz-Rock Ensemble, a small group of singers and instrumentalists selected from the Mixed Chorus, specializes in performing the more pop-oriented songs during choral concerts. This year the emphasis has been on school assemblies such as those presented at the Milton Hershey Schools and at Garfield and Cochran Jr. High Schools. Many of the members also participated in JHS's musical production of Godspell, and in District and Regional Choruses held this year at Westmont and Clearfield High Schools, respectively

CHEERLEADERS

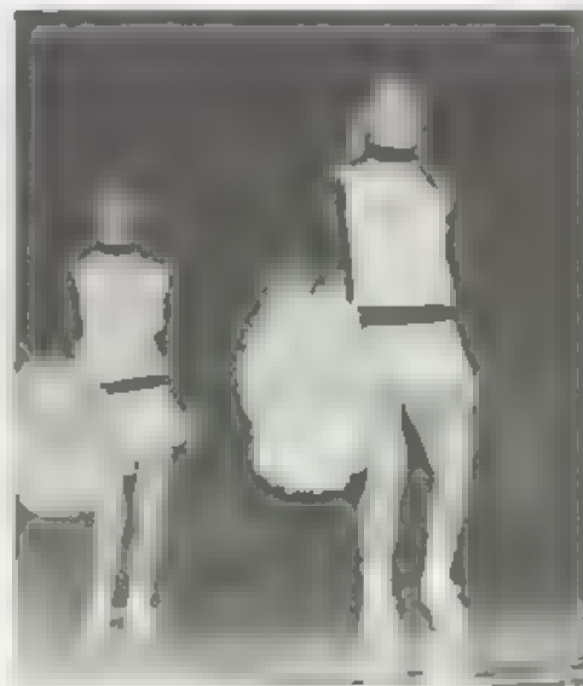

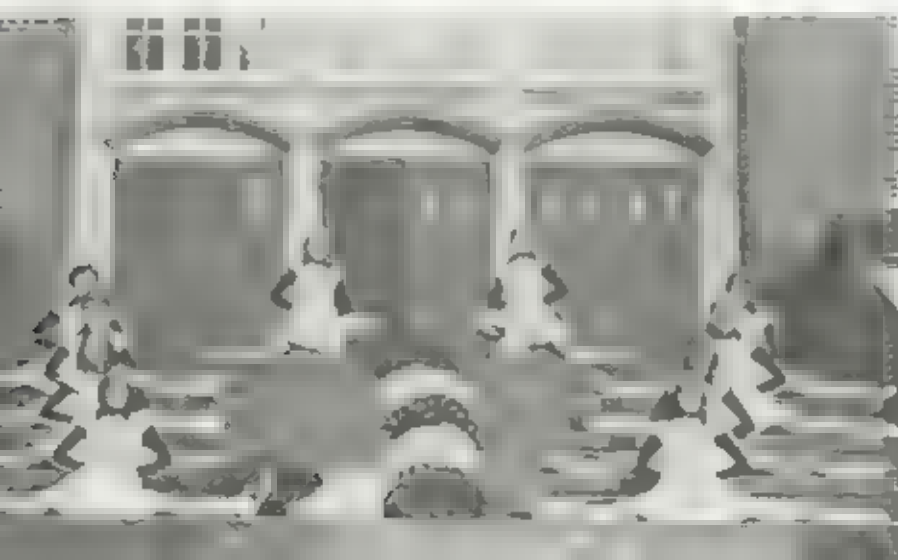

Sue Varner is the captain of this year's cheerleading squad and is assisted by Debbie Coby—co-captain. The life of a cheerleader is hectic but exciting. The cheerleaders are there during victory and defeat, but they show the same amount of enthusiasm and spirit in each case. This year's squad did not place in the Cheerleading Contest, but they made a showing we were all proud of. Their feelings this year ranged from nervous excitement to patient anticipation, as shown in the pictures above. At left, Poey Petak looks up the number for "Dial-a-cheer." While, at right, Sue Varner puts in the call. Lori Miklos and Annette Oxen look on in disbelief.

On February 11 and 12, 1977, the Johnstown High School Drama Department and the Independent Lighting and Stage Technicians presented a three-act comedy entitled "Come Blow Your Horn." Written by Neil Simon, the play shows a middle-aged man trying to help his younger brother break away from his parents' bonds and the problems that come in doing so. Despite delays caused by the harsh winter conditions, the cast and crew gave a fine performance.

This year two girls from the Cambria Community School took part in the Cambria County Junior Miss Pageant. For their part in the pageant they were crowned "A Taste of Honey" and "Gena of a Dream". A goal of $18,000 was set, but it was passed by total sales of $19,105. The patron drive, which helps to cut yearbook costs, did not reach its goal, even so, the drive was a success. The high patron salesman was Jamie Pentz, who brought in a total of $155.

JHS HOMEcoming

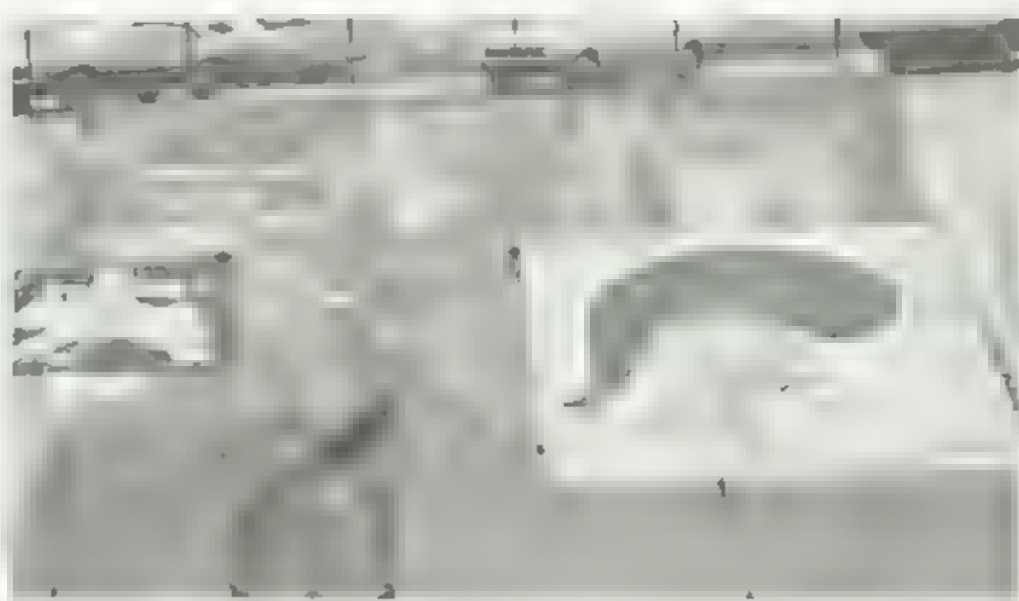

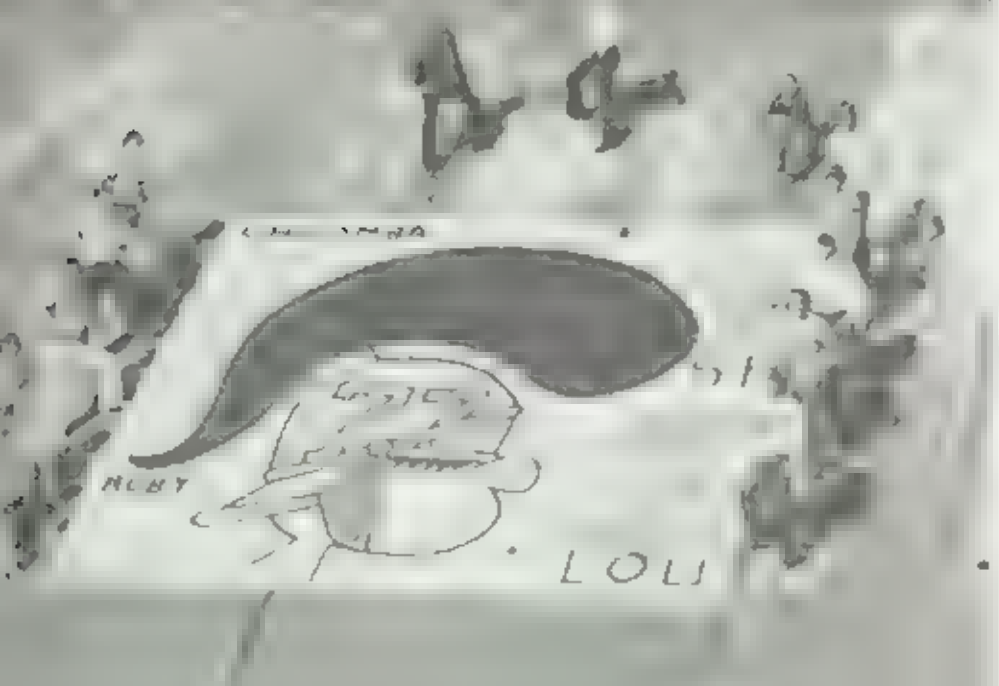

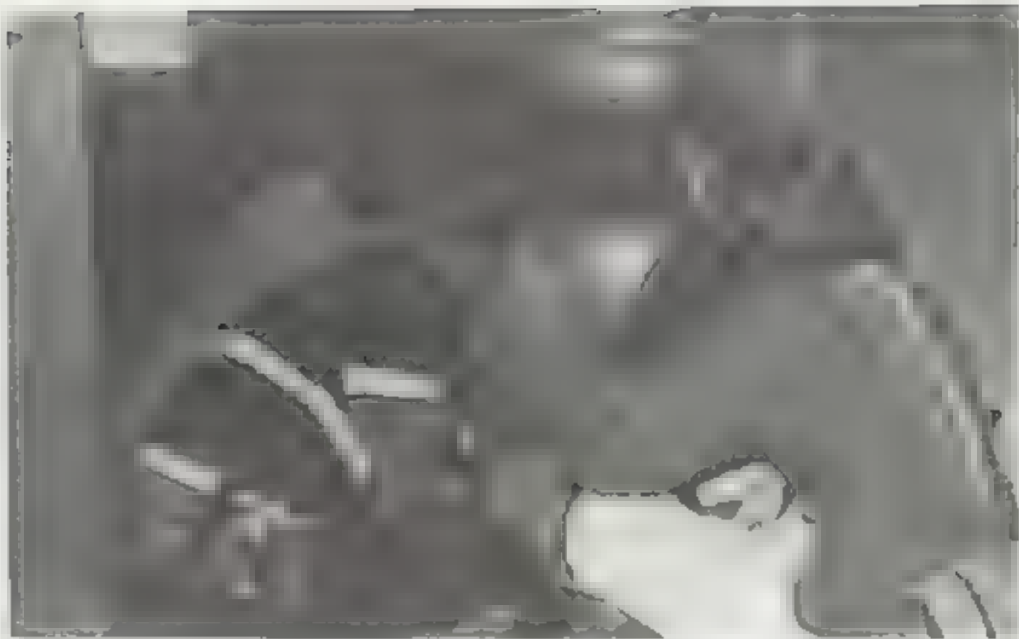

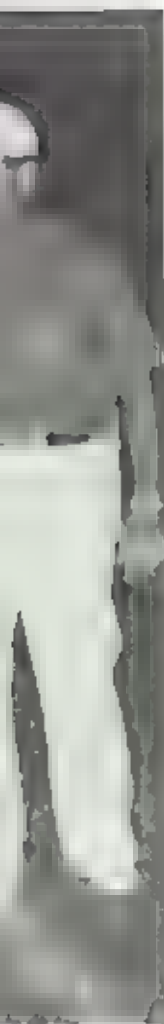

HOMECOMING '76

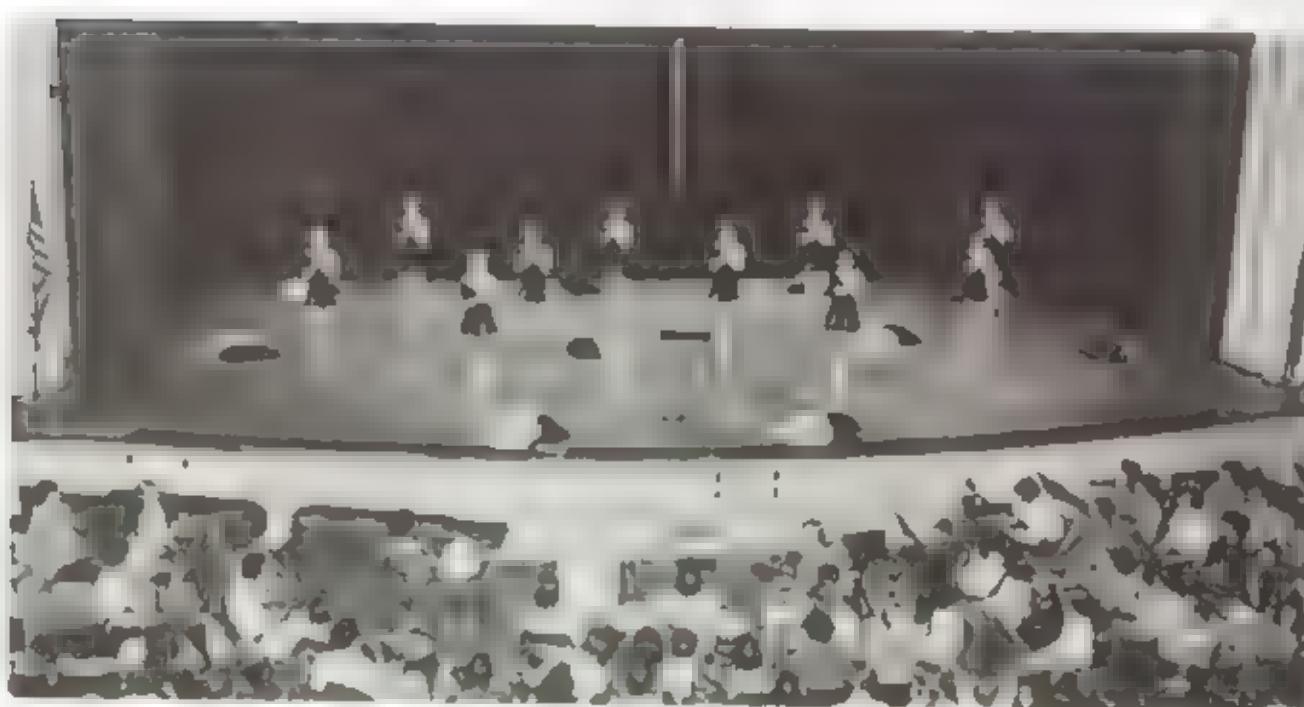

This year's homecoming involved a variety of events. The Student Council held the annual Homecoming dance on Friday, October 15. Along with the dance, members of the Student Council Judy Cwik, Beth Flynn, Beth Mosorjak, Pam Gall, Joe Klonicki, John Zemet, Marcia Tondora, Mike Coby, and Mike Lingenfelter built a float. Another float was provided by Y-Teens. On Saturday, October 16, the football team played Connellsville, with Connellsville winning 12-9, the closest game of the Trojan season. It's a tradition at JHS for the seniors to paint the river wall. This year members of the band Keith Dickert, Bernie Rubritz, Bill Oleksak, Steve Herman, Karl Kushner, Clair Eash, Dave Jobe, Mary Weaver, Tom Betts, Dave Harshberger, Dave Dishong, Tom Cooper and Brian Parks painted 77's mark. Homecoming '76 was a memorable event.

The Big Apple!!

On Friday, April 29, the seniors left Johnstown at 5:30 a.m. for their annual class trip to New York. They arrived at the Hotel Edison around 12:00 noon. There were two events the class had to attend, "The Wiz" at the Majestic Theater and the Radio City Music Hall. The mornings and afternoons were free to shop and sight-see. The trip ended with a three-hour tour of Uptown and Downtown Manhattan, Chinatown, Greenwich Village and the Statue of Liberty.

YEAR IN REVIEW

To start off the year, Jimmy Carter, "the man from Plains", and Gerald Ford fought a long hard battle for the Presidency. Nationally televised debates were presented in Philadelphia, San Francisco, and Williamsburg. A fourth debate was held between the Vice-Presidential candidates, Republican Robert Dole and Democrat Walter Mondale.

Representatives of both parties came to Johnstown. Jimmy Carter came on the "train for a change" to hold a rousing rally at the train station September 20. Bob Dole, the Republican Vice Presidential candidate, was here in late October. Highlights of the campaign were now-President Carter's interview with Playboy magazine in which he admitted "I lusted after many women in my heart," the escapades of Billy Carter, the President's brother and Miss Luan, his mother. Emphasis of the Carter campaign was his "just plain folks" image and the streamlining of the bureaucracy. Ford cited his accomplishments in the White House, and countered that Carter never took a definite stand on any subject.

In Congress, Thomas "Tip" O'Neill was elected Speaker of the House, and Jim Wright of Texas became the Majority Leader. Bill Brock replaced Margaret Chase Smith as the leader of the Republican party.

Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi ended three years of emergency rule with the election defeat of her Congress Party. The new Prime Minister is Morarji Desai.

After the discovery of secret bank accounts in the U.S., Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin of Israel tried to resign but was forced to remain in office until May 17 elections. Rabin's wife was fined for the illegal bank accounts.

Chairman Mao's long reign over the Chinese people came to an end September 9 when the 82 year old Chinese leader died. Following his death, Hua Kuo-Feng, his successor, reportedly fought a long battle for control with Mao's widow, Chin Chiang. The fighting finally subsided in February.

In America, the swine flu immunization program went down in disgrace. The program was instituted after a breakout in Fort Dix, N.J., in February of 1976. Then President Gerald Ford instituted a $135 million program to immunize every American. The shots met with several delays, however. The first six million doses were the wrong vaccine, then the manufacturers of the vaccine refused to assume liability for any ill effects it caused. They must have had foresight, for the swine flu shots were found to cause the paralyzing effects of the Guillain-Barre syndrome. Hundreds of people were struck with the syndrome and the immunization program was abandoned.

On a happier note, Americans won all five Nobel Prizes awarded for 1976. William Lipscomb won the Chemistry prize, Burton Richter and Sam Ting took the Physics category, Baruch Blumberg, Medicine, Milton Friedman, Economics, and Saul Bellow, Literature. No peace prize was awarded. Each prize carries with it a $160,000 purse.

Scientists in their never ending search for the cause of cancer came up with two new carcinogens: saccharin, a sweetener, and tris, which is used to fireproof children's pajamas. Saccharin was banned as a public product, but will be sold to diabetics and others who must avoid sugar for medical reasons.

Another scientific discovery was that of rings around Uranus, the eighth planet, similar to those already seen around Saturn. The rings had been suspected, but not seen until March 10. It is speculated that the rings are made up of solar material that never formed into planets.

A convicted murderer in Utah attracted much attention in late 1976 when he requested the death penalty for his crime. The criminal was Gary Gilmore. He was condemned, reprieved, recondemned, and finally executed on January 17.

Claudine Longet was accused of murdering her lover, skier Spider Sabich, and was found guilty after several weeks of testimony. Among Miss Longet's supporters was her former husband Andy Williams, who was often seen with her during the trial. The former Las Vegas showgirl was sentenced after a widespread hate campaign in her home town of Aspen, Colorado.

Several leaky tankers endangered sealife along the Atlantic Coast, bringing out calls for stricter regulations on oil supertankers. Two Liberian tankers, the Argo Merchant and the Universe Leader, and the Panamanian Grand Zenith, broke up off the North Atlantic Coast, spreading millions of gallons of oil. Also, a pipe in a North Sea oil well gave way and spread over seven million gallons of oil before being capped by a team of international experts.

The worst cold spell in American history spread across the country in January. Meteorologists say during the next four years there will be two or three more winters like the one just experienced. This adds fuel to the belief that another Ice Age is descending upon the world and subtracts fuel from America's already depleted fuel resources.

A Special Commission to Vietnam headed by United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock came back with news of servicemen missing in action in Vietnam. The commission brought back twelve bodies and has promises of many more. However, Vietnam claims that many servicemen are voluntarily living in Vietnam and have no wish to return.

President Carter's first action as our thirty-ninth president was to pardon the Vietnam draft evaders. Although he received much criticism for his decision, he stood by it. Other actions included a request for a $50 tax refund, which was rescinded in April, support of human rights in the Soviet Union, and commutation of Watergate burglar Gordon Liddy's sentence.

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance went to the Soviet Union to present strategic arms limitations proposals, but was turned down. The press blamed Carter's support of Soviet dissidents and human rights. An October conference is planned in Geneva to further discuss SALT.

The energy crisis prompted Carter to present a new energy program for America involving conservation, conversion to other methods, confiscatory taxes, and research and development of new energy sources.

REVIEW

In his first nationally televised appearance since his resignation, Richard Nixon talked with David Frost in four ninety minute specials. The taping was done in twelve two hour sessions. Nixon talked about his accomplishments in office, his handling of the Watergate scandal, and his life since his resignation.

Barbara Walters became the newscasters' first million dollar baby by signing with ABC for the nightly news with Harry Reasoner.

The worst plane disaster in aviation history took place in April in the Canary Islands. More than 575 people were killed when two jumbo jetliners collided on the runway at Santa Cruz de Tenerife airport. Heavy fog was blamed for the accident.

The U.S. instituted a new 200 mile fishing limit in response to New England fishermen's complaints that other countries were using more sophisticated equipment and draining the ocean of fish. There were numerous Russian violations and repeated warnings, then the Coast Guard took action, seizing the Taras Shevchenko and the Antanas Sniechkus within the 200 mile limit and with more than their quota of fish. This led to a worsening of U.S.-Soviet relations and more proclamations by the President about the Soviets taking advantage of the Americans' good nature.

As usual, prices went up this year, especially for coffee and oil. Brazilian coffee sold for as much as $4.43 per pound. After an OPEC meeting, oil prices increased 5% for Saudi and United Emirate oil and other oil prices increased 10%. This was the first sign of dissension within the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

In France, Abu Daoud, the terrorist believed responsible for the murder of twenty-one athletes at the Munich Olympics was brought into custody, only to be released later after extradition proceedings by Israel and West Germany failed.

The pilot of a Soviet MIG25 jet fighter flew his plane into Japan where specialists took it apart to gather vital information about the Soviet technology. The pilot requested asylum in the U.S. but he and the plane were returned to Russia.

Volkswagen decided to install its new Rabbit plant in New Stanton, Pa. Metropolitan moved its regional headquarters to Richland, and the UMW moved its credit union to Ebensburg.

In Tower City, Pa., near Philadelphia, a mine wall collapsed and trapped several miners. The only miner to survive was Ronald Alvie, who was the first to be located among the debris.

Herbert Fineman, State House Speaker, was indicted on the charges of conspiracy, blackmail, mail fraud, and obstruction of justice. Pressure was put on him to resign his post, but he only stepped down until the charges were dealt with. After being found guilty on two charges, Fineman resigned.

President Carter nominated Mayor Pete Flaherty of Pittsburgh as Deputy Attorney General. The Senate confirmed the nomination and Richard Cagari, city council president, was confirmed as mayor by the Pittsburgh City Council.

In sports, Nadia Comaneci was the darling of the Olympics, scoring seven perfect tens for her gymnastic performances. The song she performed to, 'Theme from the Young and Restless' was rereleased as 'Nadia's Theme'.

Panther Power was on everyone's minds as the Pitt Panthers celebrated an undefeated season and won the Sugar Bowl against Georgia. The star of the Panther team, Tony Dorsett, won the Heisman trophy and was drafted by the Dallas Cowboys of the NFL.

The Cincinnati Reds won the World Series against New York, and the Oakland Raiders overcame their losing image to win the Super Bowl over the Minnesota Vikings.

Locally, there was a dispute over the JHS football program. After the Trojans' first winning season in JHS history, the school board wanted to know why. Among the factors mentioned as causes were the shrinking of the school sport, the budget, and the overall sports program.

Two blockbuster movies redone and released this year were King Kong and A Star is Born. A Star is Born won an Oscar for the best score, featuring Barbra Streisand singing 'Evergreen'. Rocky, the movie about a boxer who gets a chance to fight for the heavy weight title, won the Oscar for Best Picture, and Peter Finch, star of Network, won Best Actor posthumously.

Slapshot came to Johnstown amid mixed reviews, and the Johnstown people flocked to see themselves and their city on the big screen. While many praised the movie, others felt it was an insult to our city and the game of hockey. Also in local entertainment, Charley Pride and the Harlem Globetrotters came to the War Memorial Arena.

After over a year of squabbling, the Johnstown Traction Co. became the property of the Cambria County Transit Authority. The Authority projected several plans to increase commuter usage and improve passenger service. Many of the plans are eligible for federal aid.

A fire in the Revloc mine delayed mining for several weeks. The fire would not be put out by conventional methods, and raged on until a bulkhead was built and flooded. Bethlehem Steel authorities stated the fire was one reason for their poor financial condition after their first quarter of 1977.

In local politics, primaries were held for the mayoral contest with incumbent Herb Pfluh, John McNitt, Charles 'Kutch' Tomljanovic, and John 'Nap' Napolitan fighting for ballot positions. Pfluh and Tomljanovic easily won nomination.

In March, the Tribune-Democrat initiated a Sunday edition, incorporating features, expanded sports, financial reports, style news, and various mini-tabloids.

The year after the Bicentennial was far from dull.

LEADER 1978

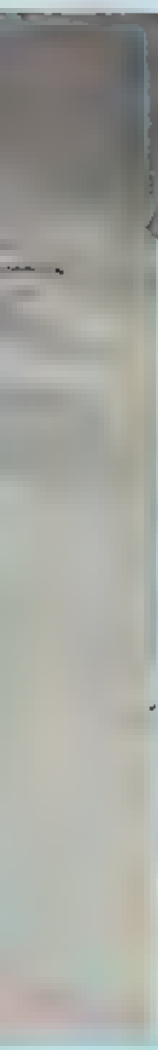

THE WINTER

AND SNOWED.

IT SNOWED...

We cannot predict the future, but whatever happens it seems safe to assume none of us will forget the winter of 1977. Devastating snows and record cold struck the East in January and continued into February. In Buffalo, New York, officials found the frozen bodies of nearly a dozen motorists trapped in cars buried under blizzard snow. In Johnstown, we, too, battled the winter snow, but the bitter gripping cold became our worst enemy. The eastern part of the United States suffered its coldest January in the 177 years such records have been kept. During the 1950's and 1960's, Americans had switched their energy dependence to natural gas—much cheaper and more convenient than other forms of energy. But suddenly, during the winter of 1977, we found ourselves for the first time with insufficient supplies of natural gas to meet our needs. The shortages affected the quality of all our lives. We all cheered the afternoon word spread that Governor Shapp was ordering schools to close because of the energy shortage. We cheered the immediate gratification of an unexpected vacation without thinking of the far-reaching implications of the Governor's order. Then some of us began wondering about our futures. What would it be like to grow up in a world that had nearly exhausted its energy supplies? And that afternoon a yearbook advisor returned to his home and reduced his thermostat to 62 degrees as requested by the gas company. Later that evening, shivering slightly in his cold home, he became just a little frightened.

"To Remember Me..."

The day will come when I will lie in a coffin neatly tucked under four corners of a mattress, peacefully occupied with the living and the dead. At a certain point a doctor will determine that my brain has ceased to function for all intents and purposes, my life has stopped.

When that happens, do not attempt to put artificial life into my body by the use of a machine. And don't call my death bed. Let it be called the Bed of Life, so that my body, though dead, may go on to help others lead fuller lives.

Give my sight to the man who has never seen a sunrise, a baby's face or love in the eyes of a woman. Give my heart to a person whose own heart has caused nothing but days of pain. Give my blood to the teen-ager who was pulled from the wreckage of his car, so that he might live to see his grandchild being born. Give my kidneys to one who depends on a machine to exist from week to week. Take my bones, every muscle, every fiber and nerve in my body and find a way to make a crippled child walk.

Explore every corner of my brain. Take my cells, if necessary, and let them grow so that, someday, a speechless boy will shout at the crack of a bat and a deaf girl will hear the sound of rain against her window.

Burn what is left of my body and scatter the ashes to the winds to help the flowers grow.

If you must bury something, bury my faults, my weaknesses and all prejudice against my fellow man.

Give my sins to the devil and my soul to God.

If, by chance, you wish to remember me, do it with a kind deed or word to someone who needs you. If you do all I have asked, I will live forever.
